

FOREST NATURE WALK

BRIDLE TRAILS STATE PARK July 20

ECOLOGY OF A MATURE LOWLAND FOREST

Join a Ph. D. ecologist for a forest nature walk in Bridle Trails State Park. Learn about the natural history, plants, and animals of this exceptional forested natural area, how biological diversity in forests develops over time, how we are dealing with the threat of invasive plants to urban forests, and what exciting research tells us about how forest ecosystems work.

When: 10:00 a.m. – noon. on Saturday, July 20.

Where: Bridle Trails State Park. 5300 116th Ave NE, Kirkland. We will meet in the parking lot near the main entrance to the park. Discover Pass required to park in the lot.

Preparation: Wear good shoes for trails and clothing for the weather.
